DETAILED ACTION

1. This is the final action for application number 10/589,789. Claims 1-16 are pending in this application.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 3/28/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

3. Applicant argues, "For example, no portion of Mansikkaniemi has been identified as teaching associating one or more calendar notes with calendar profiles of a terminal, each calendar profile defining a unique view to calendar content on the basis of the calendar notes associated with the calendar profile. More specifically, it has not been shown where Mansikkaniemi teaches or suggests a calendar profile that defines a unique view on the basis of calendar notes associated with the calendar profile as it has not been shown how the asserted shared calendar would correspond to the claimed calendar profile. Without correspondence to each of the claim limitations, the § 102(b) rejection is improper".

The examiner respectfully notes that the reference must be read as a whole. Furthermore, the examiner intended ¶0048 cited in the rejection of claim 1 to be the basis for rejecting this claim limitation. This is inserted in the final rejection below for clarification purposes. Specifically, each new event is also designated to either be listed on the family calendar or just on the individual's calendar. Thus, any member of the family can look at and add to the family calendar and also look at and add to their private calendar, but cannot look at and add to another's calendar (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0048).

This paragraph clearly shows a unique view based upon a profile. As each family member's calendar can have a different view. Therefore, the examiner respectfully disagrees with the applicant.

FINAL REJECTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mansikkaniemi et al., US 2002/0063732 (Hereinafter, Mansikkaniemi).

Regarding Claim 1, Mansikkaniemi discloses, “a method comprising: associating one or more calendar notes with calendar profiles of the terminal each calendar profile defining a unique view to calendar content on the basis of the calendar notes associated with the calendar profile” (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0048).

Mansikkaniemi also discloses, “selecting in the terminal at least one calendar profile for generating calendar content to be shared”. Specifically, any member of the family can look at and add to the family calendar and also look at and add to their private calendar, but cannot look at and add to another's calendar (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0048).

Mansikkaniemi also discloses, "generating the calendar content to be shared on the basis of at least one selected calendar profile and the one or more calendar notes associated with it". Specifically, any member of the family can look at and add to the family calendar and also look at and add to their private calendar, but cannot look at and add to another's calendar (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0048).

Mansikkaniemi also discloses, "sharing the generated calendar content to be shared between the terminal and a remote device". Specifically, the authenticated group member may change the group calendar content according to given command in such a way, that other authorized members of the same group get the latest group calendar information from the server (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0040).

Regarding Claim 2, Mansikkaniemi also discloses, "the method as claimed in claim 1, wherein the calendar content to be shared between the terminal and remote device is shared by transmitting the calendar content from the terminal to the remote device". Specifically, the authenticated group member may change the group calendar content according to given command in such a way, that other authorized members of the same group get the latest group calendar information from the server (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0040).

Regarding Claim 3, Mansikkaniemi also discloses, “the method as claimed in claim 1, wherein the calendar content to be shared between the terminal and remote device is shared by loading the calendar content to the remote device”. Specifically, the authenticated group member may change the group calendar content according to given command in such a way, that other authorized members of the same group get the latest group calendar information from the server (Mansikkaniemi, ¶¶0040

Regarding Claim 4, Mansikkaniemi also discloses, “the method as claimed in claim 1, further comprising generating the calendar content to be shared as defined by the selected user profile based on a remote device, user group, purpose of use or time of day”. Specifically, any member of the family can look at and add to the family calendar and also look at and add to their private calendar, but cannot look at and add to another’s calendar (Mansikkaniemi, ¶¶0048). There also is day view or a month arrangement (Mansikkaniemi, ¶¶0044).

Regarding Claims 5-8, applicant claims a system to perform the method of claims 1-4. These claims are substantially similar to claims 1-4 and are therefore rejected based upon the same reasoning used to reject claims 1-4.

Regarding Claim 9, Mansikkaniemi also discloses, “the communications system as claimed in claim 5, wherein the remote device is a media device, computer, PDA (Personal Digital Assistant) device or mobile station”. Specifically, Mansikkaniemi discloses a computer and wireless terminals Mansikkaniemi, ¶0023-24).

Regarding Claims 10-11, applicant claims a terminal that performs the method of claims 1-2. These claims are substantially similar to claims 1-2 and are therefore rejected based upon the same reasoning used to reject claims 1-2.

Regarding Claim 12, Mansikkaniemi also discloses, “the terminal as claimed in claim 10, wherein the controller is configured to grant the remote device an access right to the calendar content to be shared”. Specifically, the authenticated group member may change the group calendar content according to given command in such a way, that other authorized members of the same group get the latest group calendar information from the server (Mansikkaniemi, ¶0040).

Regarding Claim 13, this claim is substantially similar to claim 9 and is therefore rejected based upon the same reasoning used to reject claim 9.

Regarding Claim 14, this claim is substantially similar to claim 1 and is therefore rejected based upon the same reasoning used to reject claim 1.

Regarding Claims 15-16, these claims are substantially similar to claim 11-12 and are therefore rejected based upon the same reasoning used to reject claims 11-12.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
